

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part I

In the book of Joshua, part of the MOST influential book in Western culture, God ordered Joshua to invade each city of Canaan and do 5 things:

- 1) Create a ruse outside of each city to draw out the fighting men.
- 2) Ambush the fighting men and kill them.
- 3) Enter the city and kill everyone inside.
- 4) Loot the city of its valuables.
- 5) Burn the city to the ground to destroy the evidence.

We will see in parts 2 through 7 how this highly organized terror became the model for Western dominance of the world.

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part II

Moving on now from ancient history, as told in part in Western Civ's MOST influential book (the Bible), down through the Roman Republic (slaves and all) and the rise of Christianity, through the Crusades and the Inquisition, to the Protestant Reformation.

Martin Luther objected to Catholic (the universal church) corruption, and became the pawn of European governments vying for power against the Pope and other forces. While Luther was a fairly liberal person for his time, the emergence of Calvinism and Puritanism pulled the Reformation and Protestantism much further away from the Catholic church.

As time went on, the more radical Protestants felt oppressed in Europe, and migrated to the New World as Puritans and other sects (or cults). The Salem Witch Trials are one example of radical Protestantism in action in emerging America.

But it wasn't Protestantism that founded the U.S. government of the 13 colonies that were dominated by Protestants - it was the alleged Luciferians who did so - the Founding Fathers were almost entirely Freemasons operating in their version of The Enlightenment. And by no small coincidence, the Founders chose their system of government based largely on the ancient Roman model (democratic to an extent, including slaves), and we have that form of government to this day.

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part III

In order for a society to be democratic, progressive, and civilized/enlightened, yet maintain slavery and a policy of attrition against less-progressive neighboring cultures that "get in the way" of that progress, a strong belief in the Manifest Destiny and Rightness of the winning culture must be instilled in the populace.

A key to understanding what must be done is to understand that erstwhile democratic governments may collapse from within if the gentility (particularly the females) object to the brutality of that government, and organize various resistances against it.

We see in the Declaration of Independence the indictment of the "Merciless Indian Savages", and we see that the issue of slavery was unmentioned for official purposes other than as a partial count for representation in the Constitution.

To mollify the people who would object to slavery or the elimination of the Indian threat, a highly organized propaganda campaign was begun by the businesses who benefitted from slavery et al, and conducted ruthlessly by their representatives in government.

The Civil War was a necessary response to Secession, and Secession was a necessary response to Terrorism (see below).

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part IV

To understand Terrorism in the context of Southern Secession, you can read about the first book legally and officially banned in 20th century America - "Hitman", distributed by Paladin Press. The Abolitionists were distributing booklets throughout the South describing how the slaves could kill their masters and escape to the Underground Railroad.

While those booklets aren't regarded by history as a major cause of Secession, they - like the false testimony of Bush's client in the "Incubator Baby" scandal leading to Gulf War I - were the tipping point that garnered the votes to secede.

While the terror instigated by the Abolitionists (led secretly by Lincoln) triggered Secession and thus the Civil War, the terror to come that was instigated by Lincoln and his mentally unstable General W.T. "Burn-'em" Sherman would be the deciding factor in ending the war. That terror of burning cities full of women, children, and disabled men while the fighting men were away fighting the real war, harkened back to ancient Israel and the burning of Canaan.

And thus the terror-burning of cities became the standard procedure of American warfare.

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part V

Skipping past WW1 (the first Globalist war) to WW2, we see the firebombing of Tokyo and Dresden leading up to the ultimate firebombing acts of nuking Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In the Dresden example, Allied planes flew over the escape routes and machine-gunned the civilians who were escaping that city.

As WW2 took shape, Earl Warren and John J. McCloy (both of whom led the Warren Commission in 1964) collaborated to herd thousands of Japanese-Americans into concentration camps without due process. McCloy, known as the Chairman Of The Board of the USA, was a close confidant and supporter of Adolf Hitler, sharing a box with him at the 1936 Olympics.

The other large business coalition that supported the Nazis, even through the early days of WW2, was headed by Averell Harriman and Prescott Bush (father of George Bush - all of them Skull and Bones). There is considerable evidence tying George Bush to the JFK Assassination, and prior to that the Bay of Pigs, on behalf of the CIA.

As George Bush led the charge to Gulf War 1 (GW1), ex-Attorney General of the U.S. Ramsey Clark led an international war crimes tribunal against Bush, based in part on Bush's firebombing of Iraqi troops leaving Kuwait and returning to Iraq. That firebombing was known as the Highway Of Death, and the spectacle of 60 thousand men burnt to death for revenge purposes against Bush's former partner Sadaam (who apparently double-crossed him) haunted the anti-war community thereafter.

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part VI

In the early days of GW1, Ted Coppel of Nightline asked future Israel PM Netanyahu what his children are asking about the war in the Middle East. Netanyahu answered "I read to them from the book of Joshua."

To complete the Bush revenge against Sadaam, as well as provide the "New Pearl Harbor" for the Neocons who occupied the Pentagon circa 2001, Bush2 created the utterly ludicrous 9/11, then proceeded with "Shock and Awe" (i.e. Blitzkreig) as well as "Shake and Bake", which was the firebombing of Fallujah and other Iraq cities. Bush2 added sanctions against Iraq that led to the deaths of more than 100 thousand Iraqi children, which the Secretary of State described as "worth it", in spite of the fact that the basis of the sanctions was false testimony about WMD.

GW2 provided for scapegoating of Muslims on an epic scale, continued by Obama and Trump following the Bush2 administration. The unfair treatment of Muslims is illustrated well by the Charlie Hebdo incident, proclaimed by most media as "Free Speech". While that media allowed for attacking Muslims at their most sacred and sensitive point, the country where it occurred as well as most Western European countries forbid an equivalent attack on Jews' most sensitive issue, the Holocaust.

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part VII

Due to the advanced techniques of disinformation created by government, mainstream media (MSM), and their contractors and associates, the public has difficulty distinguishing the personal opinions of the major players from the official policies of government.

For example, the man most responsible for creating the War On Drugs - William Bennett - appeared on the Larry King TV show nearly 20 years after the fact and stated "Larry, if you wanted to cut crime by a huge percentage, just kill all of the black babies." (quote approximate.) Right after saying that, Bennett offered his disclaimer "Of course that would be a reprehensible thing to do, but the statistics are accurate." (again, quote approximate.)

I think of Bennett's raison d'etre as a Hegelian Dialectic. But racism as it were comes in many different forms. For example, to convict Charles Manson of the murders he allegedly ordered but did not participate in, Vincent Bugliosi (one of the great liars of all time) created "Helter Skelter", a conspiracy that Manson allegedly created in order to foment a race war in America. The Los Angeles jury bought it, the MSM bought it, and another fake history was created.

But that was just the tip of the iceberg for Los Angeles. Between 1992 and 1994, there were two trials of the Rodney King officers and two trials of OJ Simpson. Despite the fact that one of the four trials was a civil trial, all four verdicts were unanimous at 12-zero. And each of the verdicts were decided by the predominant racial composition of the jury versus the race of the defendant(s). When the juries' predominant race matched the defendant(s) - acquittal. When it didn't match - conviction.

How do you get opposite decisions in both cases, each 12-zero, using the same evidence? Racism. Not that racism isn't useful - not long after the 6000 fires of the 1992 riots burned through the business districts down Imperial Highway to LAX, the 105 Freeway was built from the 110 downtown out to LAX along that same route.

And there is more: Radio station KFI, affectionately known in the area as 'KKKFI', placed over 100 large billboards up and down Crenshaw Blvd. (a predominantly black area) shortly after OJ's exoneration, with huge letters saying "STILL GUILTY". KFI's major billboard near the 105/LAX exit circa 2001-2002 read "We talk Bush and Dick."

THE ORIGINS OF RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part VIII (Where we are now)

While I generally avoid "Conspiracy Theory" as described by mainstream media (MSM), I look around America - the USA etc., and I see a very disproportionate number of young black men under control of the penal system, which is a fairly profitable system. I see that Dr. Dre and company's original protest music has grown and largely been diverted into "Thug Culture" music by the recording, TV, and movie companies - all hugely profitable. I see (as described above) the creation of the Drug War by William Bennett et al in the Reagan administration. Can I connect these dots?

Police today are made highly aware of "Thug Attitude", for lack of a more accurate term, and that in conjunction with the natural paranoia that goes with police work on the street, leads to confrontation. I make no judgements here, since the big factors in 21st century racism (demand for illegal drugs, lack of good educational and good job opportunities for disenfranchised youth, the profitability of prisons and thug culture, and the do-nothing responses of the government) pretty obviously create confrontational opportunities by the millions. And then those confrontations and subsequent protests generate more paranoia on the part of law enforcement and government, creating a vicious self-perpetuating cycle of racism.

Do-nothing assumes, as noted above, that the system wasn't designed this way or a similar way in the Reagan administration, or even before that.

DISCLAIMER: Not to suggest a conspiracy of any kind - pure speculation here - but if elements of the National Security State (CIA, whatever...) decided that they needed to black-market hundreds of billions of dollars worth of illegal drugs in the U.S. to finance operations that Congress wouldn't approve, they'd need a large (and deniable) network of mostly expendable distributors, i.e. the disenfranchised youth as noted above.

Reagan's funding for the 1980's war against the Sandinistas was curtailed by Congress, and so Reagan adopted the hundreds of black-ops persons fired by Jimmy Carter when he came into office four years before Reagan. Those black-ops folks got the job done through private enterprise.

Lastly, should anyone question whether powerful elements of the National Security State would engage in large-scale illegal activity, one could do some research into the development of the National Security State, from the government's Operation Paperclip to the present day.

RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part IX (Student Loan Debt/Indentured Servitude)

The total U.S. Student Loan Debt (SLD) circa 2018 is estimated at $1.5 trillion, which is nearly double(!) the entire U.S. credit card debt. When Congress authorized the great Banking Bailout circa 2008-2009, the big banks who underwrite most of the SLD got the money. The little banks, who are the primary loaners to minorities, did NOT get the money.

The universities then were drawn into a huge loan/debt/interest scheme which, although it theoretically helps "educate" youth for future employment, actually facilitates and extends an ever-larger network of highly profitable colleges. The extremely well-paid Presidents and senior administrators of those colleges place huge amounts of debt onto their students, creating a vicious cycle of indebtedness for students who can "afford" it, and exclusion from higher education for those (mostly minorities) who can't afford it.

Certainly this SLD is a blessing for racists and the like, but one of the interesting ironies of this scheme is that since it gives lots of power to the bankers and their beneficiaries (the college Presidents and administrators), those beneficiaries are all too willing to suppress any campus activity that might question their unholy relationship to their sponsors.

But those questions are just the tip of the iceberg. The ever-wealthier college administrators are increasingly fearful of losing their positions and wealth, and so they tend to fear controversy on a widening range of sensitive social issues. The solution that most of these university bosses have adopted is to establish and maintain a dogma that doesn't offend government, big industry, and the majority of their students and sponsoring alumni.

RACISM IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION Part X (Tech-Worker/H-1B Immigration)

NOTE: This section is not about DACA, which are the once-legal residents who are currently being passed around in Congress like the proverbial Political Football. Neither is this section about refugee immigration, which is a global human crisis. This section is about greed and racism - corporations and government ignoring the plight of minorities in the U.S., who have been denied the opportunity for equal education and tech skills training. These giant corporations are instead lobbying government to get special visas for foreign tech workers, who have the skills now and who can produce immediate results, to save these companies from having to invest in long-term education and opportunities that don't pay off in the short term.

As I noted in previous sections, it has been immensely profitable for the entertainment industry, the prison industry, and the "illegal" drugs industry to condition (program) the youth of minority communities in the U.S. to distribute those drugs, to promote their entertainment/propaganda, and to fill their prisons with low-cost labor.

All of the so-called "illegal" money flows through the same banks and buys the same homes, cars, and other merchandise as the "legal" money does. The good news for government is that when they can get their hands on any of that "illegal" money, they get to keep it - i.e., free money.

I have to assume, based on a lifetime of experience, that we cannot require or expect the giant tech companies to ever commit to education and training programs that have the potential to achieve parity in skills and compensation for all Americans, regardless of their economic circumstances from birth through college graduation.

What we DO need to do is call out these corporations and their government sponsors for their phony and self-serving immigration posturing, which offers no investment in the education and training of long-term U.S. residents who have been deprived of equal opportunities due to racism. In essence, these companies and their government supporters are preying on public sympathies about immigration, when in fact their only concern is for bigger profits.
